

St. Xavier's Institute of Education focuses on the grooming of the future teachers and provides opportunities for its students to learn what is required for today's survival as teachers and what is the need of the society. This does include various add on and certificate course. The certificate course in school counselling started from September 2019 and got over in March 2020.

The objectives of the course were:

- To enhance the skills of guidance and counselling among the budding teachers
- To give them exposure to various approaches and techniques of counselling
- To equip them with the skills to conduct test on students and interpret at a basic level.
- To develop the skill to identify the learners who may require special guidance or counselling

For achieving the above objectives, The Institute invited guest faculty, Ms. Sonal D'silva and Dr. Shahana Pathan, who are also practitioners in the field. There were classes held on weekly basis for two hours for which a special classroom with all the facilities to teach was provided. The counsellors took the class after the college lectures got over. Following tasks were chalked out for the students, which could be conducted as per their schedule when it was feasible.

- Project on conducting individual and group counselling
- Visit to a counselling centre in school/ a counselling centre / a special school or any other organization where counselling is practiced on a regular basis
- They also prepared brochure and booklet for career counselling of secondary school student AND in detail mentioned the requirement of a particular career.
- A written assignment, where case studies were provided, and questions were put up related to it.

Once the assignments and other projects were evaluated, students were felicitated with a certificate of completion and grade card.

4. Needs to be more practical..
5. Tangible notes would help connect the dots. Students for counselling are not always available, and neither are all the materials used for a counseling session. So a standardized measure would be helpful.
6. Proper delivery of the content was observed
7. It could be organised
8. Have multiple speakers on different topics
9. To have practical sessions integrated with the theory
10. If it could be organised
11. New educators or seminars in the field can be beneficial. 'Learning by doing' is essential
12. More activities to relate with theory
1. Provide notes as the concepts are new. 2. Activities and other creative ideas will be appreciated because the lectures are taken after college hours.
13. Nil
