Transformational Education in the Ignatian Quincentenary

For Students & Faculty of Higher Education

The Ignatian Pedagogical Paradigm is founded on the belief that education must go beyond the mere transmission of information from teacher to student. It is meant to be a transformational experience that effects the students not only at the cognitive level but also at an emotional and behavioural one. The five elements of Ignatian pedagogy-context, experience, reflection, action, and evaluation- derive from the underlying principles, values, and actions in 'St. Ignatius' Spiritual Exercises'. In the year of the 500th anniversary of the Cannonball Moment of St. Ignatius of Loyola, we are attempting to discover contemporary applications of his teachings.
